

Interface® D-Sub Female HD PCB Mount Right Angle (High Density)

SKU - ICD2-FAXX

The D-Sub Female High Density PCB Mount Right Angle Connector is a reliable and durable connector designed for PCB mounting. With its right angle design, it allows for easy and convenient connections in tight spaces. This connector is specifically designed for high-density applications, ensuring efficient and secure connections. It is made from high-quality materials, providing excellent electrical conductivity and resistance to wear and tear. The D-Sub Female High Density PCB Mount Right Angle Connector is a versatile solution for various electronic devices and applications, offering reliable performance and easy installation.
